

Weekend run at Lake Ruataniwha - GCH3 run #1749

Saturday

As I got elected to write this weeks garbage guess I better make it good. We started our journey south toward Twizel under the cloud cover of the ever threatening cyclone Lucy and of course not aware of the enjoyment that was shared by the individuals that arrived ahead of us on Friday night. This was going to be interesting.

We arrived on time 11 am to unload and enjoy some pre run drinks, That was when it hit not Lucy but Go'n down outside her cabin getting rid of what was the previous nights drinks. First wave over so I walked over to find the others only to see RLD emerge from the same cabin and with one look at me the second wave came out must have been one hell of a night or maybe I had a hair out of place something made her spew.

Finally we all assembled Worka,6.3, Flapper, Mole, PKB, Fridgy Triple S, Hailey, Go'n Down and Orf Fuc waiting for instruction. It was off to the boat ramps by car a quick set up and the first of us loaded on the boat to taken to the first check. Upon arrival we waited for the second group to show and off with Worka being our live hare. Following the road ways and at one point seeing Orf do his impersonation of a mime by pretending to climb over a fence, funny thing was I didn't think it was electric but he sure shook like it was.

We stopped at the Salmon breeding area just to have a look around and those of you who just happen to see the Facebook Picture this is where the Salmon came from. OnOn to the first piss stop and meet by the boat with some cold drinks we were given a choice to take the short cut by tube back or OnOn by shore.

Back at our OnOn area we enjoyed so lunch and a bit of a play with the Jetski provided by PKB fun for all.

Dinner was of course the Salmon catch (purchased) same thing. There were fine but can't remember them defiantly RLD for seeing Klingon then spewing. That kinda became the theme.

Sunday.

Most of the recovering run was a blur cause I woke up and looked into the mirror did spew but totally understood why RLD did!!!!

A bit of lunch and we were all away.

Thanks go out to Triple S & Hailey as well as Flapper and Worka for a great weekend.

OnOn,
Klingon (gulp)
